Wine Guide

Weinheimer Schloss – Picture: Dr. Jürgen Eck

Where spring starts earlier than elsewhere in Germany and 1,600 sun hours bring golden autumn days, it goes without saying that this region is home to delicious high-quality wines. Not only the classic Riesling grape variety grows on approximately 840 hectares alongside the Hessische und Badische Bergstraße (Hessian and Baden Bergstraße), but also Weißer Burgunder (Pinot Blanc), Grauer Burgunder (Pinot Gris) and Müller-Thurgau. The grape variety Spätburgunder (Pinot Noir) dominates the field of red wines. Furthermore, the Bergstraße winegrowers offer, of course, a range of sparkling wines - from traditional bottle fermentation to Secco. This product line-up is completed by fine spirits.

The Bergstraße offers numerous wine events for all connoisseurs. In spring, the “Bergsträßer Weinfrühling” (Bergstraße Wine Spring) and in the second half of the year, the “Bergsträßer Weinherbst” (Bergstraße Wine Autumn) invite you to enjoy the diversity of wine in combination with culinary delights, either on the occasion of the famous Walking-tour through the vineyards or during a wine tasting. And, of course, you are invited to savour Bergstraße wine on the occasion of one of the numerous Bergstraße wine festivals.

Riesling
 One of the oldest grape varieties and, there is no doubt, the noblest one. Due to its late maturity, high requirements concerning the growing region have to be met. The special climate at the Bergstrasse is a guarantee for fine, racy and elegant Riesling wines - reaching from QbA to ice wine.
Roter Riesling - Red Riesling
 The historical grape variety is a special feature of the „Bergstraße“ and produces white wine of red grapes with dense aromas.
Grauburgunder (Ruländer) - Pinot Gris
 Its diversity ranges from a tangy version with a fine spirited acidity to a full-bodied and oily-flowing wine. As a mellow wine, Grauburgunder - Pinot Gris ranges from a full-bodied wine up to a noblesweet Drybeereauslese (a wine made of selected dry berries).
Weißburgunder - Pinot Blanc
 A mutation of grapes of the Burgundy family. Due to its fine spirited acidity, it ranges among Germany's most characterful and full-bodied wines and it is also stored in oak barrels (barrique) for aging.
Müller-Thurgau - Rivaner
 It loves warm loess and loam soil and therefore it ripens to high quality at the sunny Bergstrasse. The fruity and mellow wines are very aromatic and often have a pleasant nutmeg note.
Silvaner
 Rather neutral wines of mild acidity are made of Silvaner grapes. There are also rustic varieties that go along very well with hearty regional food as well as fine wines.
Spätburgunder - Pinot Noir
 This grape, indigenous to the Burgundy, is the leading red wine variety at the Bergstrasse. The "king of red wines" is known for its powerful and characteristic wines.
Dornfelder
 This new red grape variety stands out through its dark, fruity and full-bodied wines of mild acidity.
Portugieser - Portuguese
 This type of wine is an uncomplicated, fresh and smooth one which is nice to drink. Without containing too much tannic acid, it may be enjoyed in spring already.
St. Laurent
 Saint-Laurent wines are fruity, velvety and have strong fruit flavours in the bouquet. Wines of higher quality often mature in oak barrels (barrique).

In the vineyards are presented interesting facts about wine, grape varieties, geology, climate, history and Art of living such as flora and fauna of the region on approx. 8 km on more than 40 boards.

Once a year a big wine hike with tasting. Year after year numerous guided tours „Wine and geology“ or „Wild herbs in the vineyard“.

Heidelberg Wine Experience and the Bergstrasse

The sun-spoiled vineyards around Heidelberg and along the Mountain Road (Bergstrasse) with a Mediterranean-like climate are the reason why many wine lovers like to be regaled with the fine wines from the region.

Our wine experience for groups:

In a traditional restaurant in Heidelberg's old town, a wine expert will give you a delightful tour of the adjoining wine growing areas, with their characteristic red, rosé and white wines. As a feast for the palate, you will then enjoy a delicious two-course menu in a historically unique atmosphere.

Our tip: Round off your visit to Heidelberg with an excursion to the sun-kissed, idyllic Bergstrasse with its incomparable almond blossom. In addition, we would like to offer you the options of a historic restaurant tour in Weinheim, a visit to the Vinversum in Heppenheim, an exciting adventure tour "History & Wine Culture" in the World Heritage site of Lorsch or another wine tasting in the picturesque town of Schriesheim.

At our VINO THEK BERGSTRASSE in the E-Center Bensheim you will discover the largest range of Bergstrasse wines under one roof! We have over 1,300 different wines waiting for you on more than 50 running metres. In addition, there are various sparkling wines and spirits.

Around 35 wineries from Germany, which are members of the VDP (Verband Deutscher Prädikats- und Qualitätsweingüter - Association of German Special Quality Wine Estates), are represented. Outstanding winegrowers' cooperatives and other discoveries from all over the world round off our award-winning range - in 2017, we received the award „Germany's best wine department in the food retail sector“*.

Opening hours: Mon. to Sat. from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.
